20th November 2020

MESSAGE FROM MISS KENNEDY

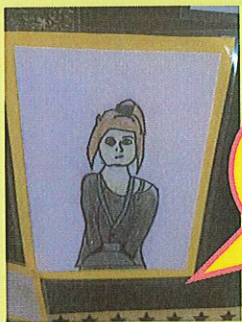

You may be aware that the Roseland school is closed for deep cleaning for two days and year 7 & 8 are in isolation. All 'close contacts' have been communicated with separately. We are aware siblings attend Grampound Road but they should attend as normal unless their own situation changes, ie they have symptoms, someone in their close family has symptoms and/or a positive test. If you are isolating please abide by the rules, we can't control what happens outside of school, but we do rely on your cooperation. Thank you all for being punctual collecting children and for keeping socially distant from others. We know the virus is amongst us and we need to keep safe.

School has been very calm this week, the children have been engaged with their learning and appreciate spending time with each other more as they have no contact outside of school during the lockdown period. The teachers and TA's are busy planning creative activities that the children will enjoy in the afternoons. We can see the children are quite tired, it has been an enormous adjustment coming to school during lockdown, but we are very proud of them all.

Have a delightful weekend, remember we still live in Cornwall, I know so many people who would love to have access to the beaches and scenery on our doorstep.

Staff News

Happy birthday Lia
for the 24th Nov,
have a fab day.

Happy birthday
Sam, we all hope you had a great day.

We would like to thank everyone

Wolf Rock

Wolf Rockers have been busy trying to finish their innovated suspense story this week ensuring that all key features have been included in their writing. There are some superb stories being drafted and the children are excited to put all of their learning together to create their final pieces. In Maths, we have moved onto division and have focused mainly of dividing a four digit number by a one digit number with and without remainders. Researching the leaders of the Allied and Axis countries proved an engaging afternoon on Tuesday and I was especially pleased of the work which followed.

Thank you Wolf Rock, once again, for your hard work and dedication this week.

JOKE OF THE WEEK

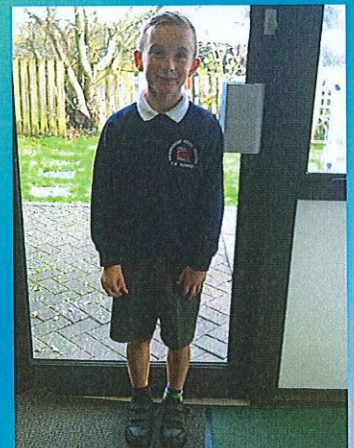

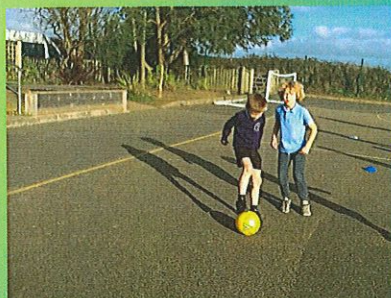

A cowboy once asked me if I could round up 18 cows?

"Of course," I said. "that'll be 20 cows".

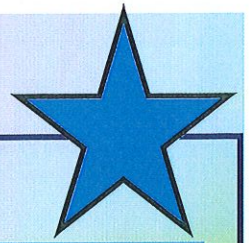

Tater Du

This week has been Anti-Bullying Week and we have been considering these issues during our Collective Worships and PSHE lessons. Jake also chose to wear odd socks to recognise the significance of the week! We have been considering how appliances are powered, and identifying how to keep safe around electricity in the home and in school. We are enjoying learning how to make repeated actions on Coding programs and we practised our dribbling and passing skills in PE. Please ensure that your child has a water bottle, healthy snack for morning break and a coat in school every day. Have a great weekend.

Class News

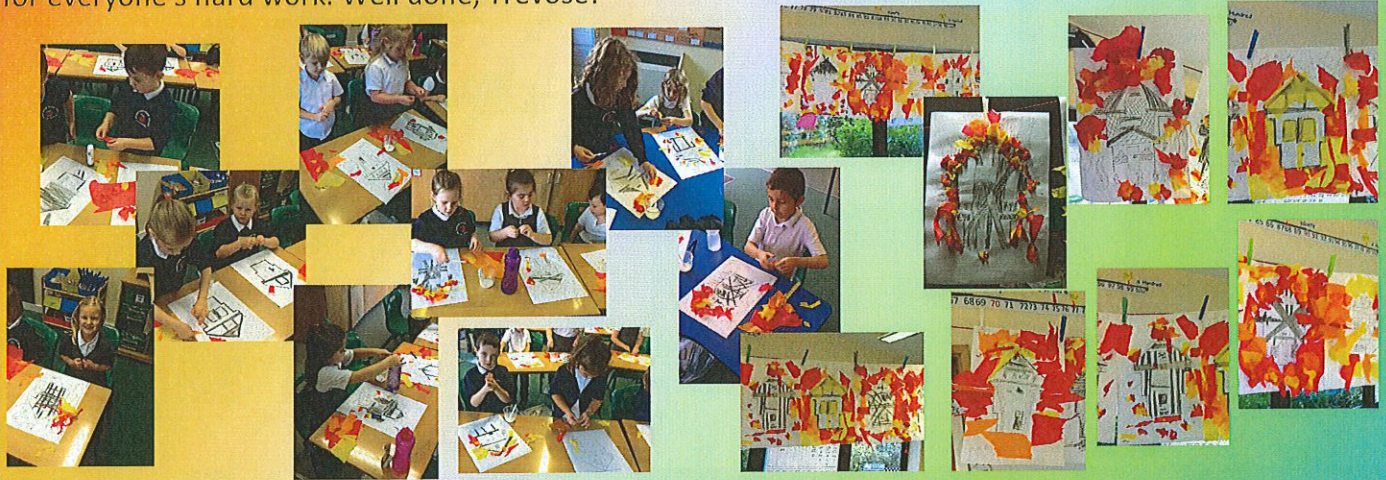

Trevose

This week Trevose have been busy drawing and designing their own Tudor houses. We have learnt about what the houses were made from and discussed how quickly the Great Fire of London spread. After we had designed our own houses, we created a collage of flames to represent the fire. I have been so impressed with everyone's creativity, well done! Have a look at some of our fantastic artwork!

In Maths, we have been learning our number bonds to 10 and 20 and in Year 2 we have been subtracting using a number line. We have also been identify different language features in our class text in Literacy and have been working together to think of our own examples for when we write our own stories.

We have also reached our Class Dojo target! Next week we will have a treat day on Thursday as a reward for everyone's hard work. Well done, Trevose!

This week is anti-bullying week so the children have been thinking about what bullying is and how it would make them feel if they were bullied and what they should do if this happens to them or somebody they know. We have thought about what makes us different and how we would feel if we were excluded because of our differences. We focused on kindness and what it means to be kind to people.

In Pendeen class this week, we have started looking at the story of 'The Three Billy Goats Gruff'. The children have been learning to retell the story with actions. The children performed their telling of the story, which was recorded so that the children could enjoy watching it back on the whiteboard. We have used our Bee Bot goat and had a go at helping him to cross the bridge to get to the green grass. We also had a visit from the Troll and the children were able to ask him their own questions that they had thought of. We hope that you have a lovely weekend and look forward to seeing you next week.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT PUDSEY AND BBC CHILDREN IN NEED

The first televised appeal was the 1955 'Children's Hour Christmas Appeal'. The Christmas Day Appeals continued on TV and radio right up until 1979, with Terry Wogan presenting from 1978. In 1980, the appeal was broadcast on BBC One in a new telethon format. It captured the public's imagination to such an extent that the donations increased dramatically and broke the million mark for the very first time. He was designed by Joanna Ball, a BBC graphic designer, who named him after the West Yorkshire town where she was born. Pudsey Bear made his television debut in 1985.

He proved very popular and returned as BBC Children in Need's official logo the following year with a design change to that of a yellow bear with a red-spotted bandana. In the years that followed, Pudsey has received letters, drawings and emails from youngsters all over the UK and has been photographed with more celebrities than he can remember.

We raised an amazing amount of £105.50

Thank you everyone for donating to BBC Children In Need
