In other news this week...

We have had lots of visitors in this week and the children were especially pleased to welcome Mr Mark Lees in on Monday morning. In Mark's new role as Interim Director for Schools for the Diocese, he came in to see how we had all settled back in to school life after the summer, which seems a distant memory now! He spoke positively about the school and we look forward to welcoming him back again next week.

Father Joachim, the new Team Rector of Probus, Ladock, Grampound with Creed and St. Erme came in to lead Collective Worship on Monday, and to present the Year Six children with their bibles. It was lovely to meet him and we hope to see him more around the school as the year progresses.

Please remember to follow us @GrampoundRoad on Twitter to find out more.

A little while ago the Parish Council planted an avenue of trees along the footpath by the cricket club, one tree to commemorate each of the men that gave their lives in WWI. On Sunday 11 November at 10am the vicar will be performing a short service of dedication. If anyone would care to join the service they would be most welcome.

Please could we ask that children do not bring wet wipes to school. There is evidence that wet wipes are being flushed down the toilets which, in turn, is causing issues with our sewerage system.

Thank you
